Music—Temple, Rain and New High.

THE preparations for a fitting observance of Memorial Day go on apace. It is the wish of the Grand Army that the citizens participate in the services as largely as possible. It is eminently fitting that the memory of the heroic dead be publicly honored by every patriot who owes to it sir sacrifice the peace and glory of a united country.

A FITTING eulogy on the late Senator John P. Miller, of this State, was pronounced in the Senate yesterday. "A man of the highest sense of honor, open and brave as an adversary, true and steadfast as a friend;—a man with whom love of country was a passion, intensified by the sacrifices he had made," "a brave soldier and a good citizen"—such were the praises bestowed on his memory.

LOUIS LINGG, the man arrested in Chicago as the manufacturer of the dynamite bomb, which killed so many policemen, confesses that he is "a born Anarchist and ready to die for the cause; in fact, would be only too glad to be sacrificed for the sake of the principles he has advocated." By all means accommodate him, and inscribe upon his tombstone: "Born an Anarchist, lived an Anarchist, was hung an Anarchist and has gone to join the Anarchists." It would be a healthy use to put Mr. Louis Lingg to.

BEES EXPRESS, don't you make any mistake about the ideas and attitude of the TIMES touching the State Convention business. We maintain that Los Angeles will do her duty—the duty of hospitality and courtesy—towards our coming guests; but we do not believe she is under any obligations to fulfill absurd, insincere and demagogical promises made in her name, without authority, by the "smart politition" who, with characteristic and immeasurable gall, undertook to tell the State Committee that the Republican delegates coming here should have everything in sight, with a chorus thrown in. That is what our people repudiate, and right they are. They object to being misrepresented by that class of fellows whose names men of manhood are wont to write in a very small and very private memorandum book with an unmentionable name. Safe?

THE members of the May graduating class of 1886 of the Los Angeles Branch Normal School did themselves proud in their essays and addresses at the Grand Opera House yesterday. When the appropriation was made for establishing this school in Los Angeles, many who politicians in the upper country, with knowing winks in the corners of their eyes, said "of course, we understand that it's a tub to the whale. The South must have something, and it might as well have this as anything else. We all know there is no possible need of a Normal School there, and it won't be used to any great extent if it is built. But that is neither here nor there." If any evidence were wanting to show the utter shallowness of this old-time political talk it might be found in the large and creditable classes of young ladies and gentlemen who are graduated at the school semi-annually. "By their fruits ye shall know them," and the Los Angeles Normal can well be judged by this scriptural standard.

AMUSEMENTS.

ISABEL MORRIS IS THE NEW MAGDALEN.—In its dramatized form the celebrated novel of Wilkie Collins has of late years been a great favorite with actresses of the school which is styled "emotional," according to the present popular classification of feminine stars. While every apology may be allowed on behalf of the gifted author, whose sincerity of purpose in use has doubtless, and whose skillful literary treatment of a subject requiring the most delicate handling, has been freely acknowledged, it must be admitted that the leading motive of the story—the reclamation of a fallen woman and her elevation to the rank of a clergyman's wife—presents very considerable difficulties when it has to be acted out upon the stage with the garish effects incident to such a presentation. To say that Miss Morris is successful in handling the difficult character of the heroine is but limited praise. The role is not a congenial one, but she bestows upon it an amount of discretion and display of talent that makes the audience desire to listen to her in something more worthy of her efforts. Miss Morris is a thoroughly conscientious artist in all she undertakes, and she has the magnetic power of holding the entire attention of her audience during every moment of her presence on the stage, which indicates the possession of an ability far beyond the average. She has no tendency to rant, but produces her effects by means of a quiet concentration which in last night's performance elicited frequent and most hearty applause. The main support was afforded by J. Edmonds as "Julian Gray" and Theodore Roberts as "Theodore Holmcroft." Mr. Edmonds is an actor of considerable experience and of very respectable ability, but in the character of the clergyman he was entirely out of his element and does not be deserve to be judged by the performance of last night. Mr. Roberts has a strangely guttural voice and a melodramatic intonation which made his acting of the lover not the least enjoyable feature of the evening. Miss Jean Duncan as "Grace Rosebery" was successful and in her principal scene displayed considerable energy. The performance as a whole was received with considerable applause from an audience which would have been of much larger size if the real merit of Miss Morris's acting had been more widely known here. To-night the attractive play of Pygmalion and Galatea will give the company another opportunity to display their talents before our public.

San Lorenzo Cherries.

A fine box of northern cherries was sent in the TIMES office yesterday by Porter Bros., of this city. They were of the Pontiac variety, and formed a part of a large consignment just received by them. The cherries were raised at the celebrated Meek orchard, at San Lorenzo, Alameda county, now owned by W. H. Meek, and for color, size, flavor and toothsomeness generally cannot be excelled. They are packed in boxes with improved devices for ventilation, and on their arrival in this city were as fresh and firm as when picked from the tree and apparently quite capable of standing a much longer journey without deterioration.

A Profitable Deal.

Dr. A. S. Shorb, ninety days ago, bought the very eligible lot at the northeast corner of Fourth and Fort street for $600, paying $2000 down. He has now sold the property for $2,000 cash, his net profit in ninety days being $1,000 on a cash expenditure of $600. Mr. Callahan, the purchaser, has upon it the three double houses on the southwest corner of Spring and Third.

Grand Central Works Burned

A private dispatch received yesterday reports the burning works of the Grand Central mine, at Tombstone, Ariz., were destroyed by fire, Wednesday night. The origin of the fire is at present unknown. The loss is heavy.

WASHINGTON.

Eulogies On the Late Senator Miller.

CLEVELAND'S MATRIMONIAL HORIZON.

Republican Senators Showing a Disposition to Make Short Work of Northern Pacific's Land Grant.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In the Senate Mr. Stanford called up the resolutions introduced by him expressing the sorrow of the Senate at the death of the late John P. Miller, of California. The resolutions having been read, Mr. Stanford addressed the Senate in feeling terms. Mr. Stanford briefly outlined the life of Mr. Miller from his birth in Indiana through the varied phases of his career as a student, lawyer, citizen, soldier and senator. Referring to his connection with the war Mr. Stanford said: "Mr. Miller was one of the first to respond in behalf of the Union at the breaking out of the rebellion. The close of the war found him a brigadier and brevet major general. On his return to Indiana Gov. Morton presented him with a sword, which he promised the soldier of the State who distinguished himself most and reflected the greatest credit on his State and country."

In the course of his concluding remarks Mr. Stanford said: "Gen. Miller's life was a success. The work he undertook he did well, whether in a campaign, in commerce or in Congress. He gained commendation on every side and in every path of duty in which he walked. He is gone. Impartial history will delight to place his name as a private and public citizen high among those who are worthy examples for their countrymen to admire and imitate."

Mr. Edmunds said that Mr. Miller was always known as a man of thought, of industry, and of practical sagacity.

Mr. Voorhees characterized the late Senator as the "highest type of an American citizen and soldier, of whom Indiana, the State of his birth, was proud."

Mr. Logan said Mr. Miller had evinced military ability of the highest order. A country that had such citizens would always be invincible to foreign foes.

Mr. Fair said it had been his good fortune to know Mr. Miller well, and the death of that distinguished man h- (Mr. Fair) felt to be not only a public loss but a personal bereavement. So successful in war, it was left to him to be equally successful in peace. Again becoming a citizen of California he was chosen by the intelligence and responsible positions under the National and State governments, and was finally chosen to represent that great State in this chamber. He was a man of fine intellectual endowment. He possessed an admirably balanced mind, and he was full of consideration for his fellowmen. He was a man of patriotism, of honor and of honesty, and in him he had his warmest friends in deploring his untimely death."

Mr. Harrison spoke of Mr. Miller as a man of the highest sense of honor, open and brave as an adversary, true and steadfast as a friend, a man with whom love of country was a passion intensified by the sacrifice he had made in behalf of that country.

Mr. Dolph, in a warm eulogism, described the deceased as a man of rare wit, strong sense and extreme modesty, well informed upon all matters affecting his State and the country, and with decided opinions on public questions, which opinions he knew how to express with the greatest clearness.

Mr. Hearst said: "The Senators who have preceded me have spoken of Senator Miller as a soldier and a statesman. It remains to me only briefly to speak of him as a citizen, in which capacity he also served his country. He and his associates were recipients of one of the most important franchises in the gift of the Government. Out of this grew an enterprise which has been carried on to the best interests of all parties therein concerned. In proof of which the books have ever been open for the investigation of any authorized agent. In fact, to my knowledge, such investigation has always been invited. The management not only protected the Government but a system was created which enabled the helpless and ignorant Indians engaged in work to save such proportion of their earnings that there is to day to their credit in the banks of San Francisco $100,000, which amount might have gone into the coffers of the company for the simple consideration of five barrels of very ordinary whisky. This instance alone is sufficient to show the purity and intensity of the man's life. Such an example should be written on the mile posts of the highways, chiseled on the cliffs along the trails of the Rocky Mountains, graven on the granite of the Sierras, been on the tall pines of the Pacific slope, and commemorated in flowers in the valleys of the dead Senator's adopted State."

The resolutions were agreed to, and, in further respect of the deceased, the Senate then adjourned.

A CAUCUS.

Republican Senators Eager to Tackle Northern Pacific.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The Republican Senators held an order-of business caucus this morning, but accomplished little besides deciding to take up at once the bill to forfeit the Northern Pacific land grant from Wallula to Portland, and to refer the House Arbitration bill to the special committee of which Gen. Logan is chairman. The latter action was taken in spite of the protests of several members of the Committee on Education and Labor. The Caucus Committee was taken to task for having fixed the order of business three or four weeks ago without giving Senators who are not members of the committee a chance to be heard. Senator Platt was asked not to press his open executive session resolution to-day, as present, but to let it go until next session. He did not give his assent to this, but no positive understanding was reached on the subject.

WILL HE WED?

A Report that Cleveland is not Matrimonially Inclined.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The Examiner's Washington special says: Speaker Carlisle, in conversation to-day, said that, in his opinion, all the talk about the President's coming marriage is the purest falsification. He has been in a position to know the facts of the case, and while he did not feel authorized to make such announcement authoritatively, he is satisfied that the statement he has made is correct. Another singular fact is that not a single member of the Cabinet knows anything about the matter. They say that there are no indications or prospects of such an event, and that if such a thing were in contemplation the members of the President's official household would have some knowledge of the fact.

POWDERLY'S PLAN.

The Master Workman's Scheme for Governing His Order.

CLEVELAND, May 27.—To night it is said that Powderly's plan, for the future government of the order, is the establishment of State assemblies. There will then be four assemblies. The local assemblies will be subordinate to the districts, the districts to the State and the State to the National. The plan is reported to be very popular among those of the delegates who have heard of it. It will do away with many unnecessary strikes. It provides, among other things, that no assembly but the State and National shall have power to order a strike or a boycott. If a local assembly wants to order a strike it must first get the consent of the district and then of the State assemblies.

College Anarchists Indicted.

CHICAGO, May 27.—The Grand Jury has returned twenty-two indictments, fifteen of which are known to be against Anarchists; seven charging murder. The indictments are not yet allowed to be made public.

MAXWELL.

More Testimony in the St. Louis Murder Trial.

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—In the Preller murder case to day, Maxwell declared that the statement of Detective McCullough was an infamous lie. He also stated that his attorney had recieved a letter signed "Stratton" offering to prove that a dead body was taken into the hotel on the day of Preller's death. This was declined and was believed to be a trap of the prosecution. Witness then withdrew, with the understanding that he will be allowed to testify again should it be found that any important points have been omitted.

The prosecution then took the witness and proceeded with the cross-examination. Maxwell, in reply to a question, stated that he introduced himself as W. X. Lennox Maxwell to Preller on board the Cephalonia soon after leaving Liverpool, but that was not his name. "I assumed the name almost immediately after leaving Hyde," said the witness. "I never told anyone why I left, not even my father and mother, but wanted to come to America, and I knew the country I was coming. I began studying physiology, anatomy, chemistry and medicine when I was about twenty years of age, and attended lectures and one of the hospitals in London, and became proficient in these branches of science. I also studied privately."

The further features of Maxwell's testimony to-day were his admission that his statement in the letter to Preller, saying that he held certain medical degrees, was a lie; his contradiction of his former statement that he wrote the marginal notes in the Vade Mecum about the best method of administering chloroform before he came to this country; his admission, when shown the forged diploma of the Royal College of Surgeons of London, that he wrote it, saying that it was simply to keep himself up in the practice of penmanship, and his plea of intoxication as a means of accounting for other peculiar statements and contradictions.

The Post-Dispatch this evening states that upon examination of Preller's remains, which were exhumed for that purpose, three doctors will testify that no such disease existed as that which Maxwell claims to have treated.

TO HONOR THE HERO.

Elaborate Preparations for Decorating Gen. Grant's Grave.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Judging from the rapidity with which floral tributes are being sent to adorn the tomb of Gen. Grant on Decoration Day, the entire edifice will be buried beneath a mound of flowers, with floral offerings filling every nook and corner in the vault itself. Two enormous date palms arrived Tuesday from Bermuda. San Francisco sent a wreath of California laurels. Leadville, Col., forwarded a bouquet of Rocky Mountain evergreens. From Connecticut came a wreath and a pillow. A handsome offering was also received from Havana, Cuba. Wilmington, Del., sent two tributes. From Jacksonville, Fla., there were loads of oleanders and a pomegranate tree seven feet high. Utica, Grant Post, No. 67, of Bay City, Mich., sent an immense floral piece, six by eight feet, of red and white immortelles, surmounted by a white dove perched on a scroll bearing the word "Peace." Below, in immortelles, is the name "Grant," with four stars, the mark of his rank.

A letter from Nashville, Tenn., states that George H. Pegram, in love with a floral sword and a floral pen crossed, Assistant Adjutant General S. E. Bickford of the Grand Army of Virginia has sent a handsome floral piece, and a letter has just been received from Señor M. Romero, Mexican minister at Washington, stating that a handsome bush from Pasadena will accompany him for decorating the tomb has arrived and that he himself intends to join the procession on Decoration Day which now promises to be one of the most imposing ever witnessed here.

OXARART'S ESTATE.

The Will Contested by an Alleged Widow and Son.

A contest which will probably furnish some sensational developments has been instituted against the will of the late Gaston Oxarart. The property of the deceased, which is estimated to be worth about $250,000, was left by his will, it will be remembered, to his nephew, Simon Gless. A lady who claims to be Mr. Oxarart's widow has now appeared, together with a son, by whom she has a boy of about fifteen years, and asks a widow's share of the estate for herself and child. Mrs. Bonita Oxarart, as the alleged widow claims the right to be styled, filed her contest several days ago, and the papers of that effect are said to be filed to day. She claims that she lived with deceased as his wife for some years, and that a marriage by parol contract, duly made and executed, existed between them this ceremony having taken place some fourteen years ago, and she alleges that, for several years, she was treated and considered as the wife of the deceased. Some four or five years ago the contestant and Mr. Oxarart, as the former alleges, had a little difficulty, growing out of his fondness for the society of other women, and thereafter they lived apart. There was a second son born to the couple previous to this separation, but he is dead, and the widow declares that herself and the young Francisco are now entitled to the estate.

THE BELL CASE.

The Jury Disagreed and were Discharged—How They Stood.

At 8:45 a. m. yesterday the jury in the Bell case, who had been out all night, entered court and reported to Judge Cheney that they were unable to agree. After polling them to find that an agreement was impossible, the Judge discharged them.

It is understood that the jurymen made a solemn compact with each other that they would not divulge the secrets of the jury room as to how they severally cast their votes for three or four weeks ago without giving Senators who are not members of the committee a chance to be heard. Senator Platt was asked not to press his open executive session resolution to-day, as present, but to let it go until next session. He did not give his assent to this, but no positive understanding was reached on the subject.

DURING THE GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT

Jail Delivery at San Francisco—Meeting of the Fruit Union—Santa Barbara Items.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The general committee of management of the Grand Army Encampment has adopted a resolution which provides for the preparation of a circular to be sent to the Board of Supervisors of each county in this State, calling their attention to the fact that Tulare county had made an appropriation to provide for a suitable display of its products in this city during the encampment, and urging them to do likewise.

CONVICTS BREAK JAIL.

About 10 o'clock this morning six prisoners confined in the county jail in this city stole the key to the side door of the prison and escaped. Their names and offenses are as follows: W. A. Somerset, the murderer of Sarah Inding; James McElroy, burglary; L. Collins and E. Dalton, assault on an officer; F. Kennedy and A. Craig, petty thieves. All were employed as prison trusties. None have as yet been recaptured.

RAILWAY RATES AGAIN REDUCED.

Railroad rates to New York and other eastern points have been reduced by the eastern trunk lines. The first-class rate now is $63 50; third class $44 75.

STRIKE AT THE UNION IRON WORKS.

The entire force, consisting of seventy-six men employed in the boiler shop of the Union Iron Works, went out on a strike this afternoon. The men asked the company to discharge certain employés in the ship yard attached to the works, and the strike is the result of a refusal to comply with their request.

CANFIELD WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

The unfinished wrestling match between Sam Matthews and Andre Cristol, for the championship of the coast, was decided at Platt's Hall this evening, Cristol winning the fall and the match. Time, twenty-seven minutes.

THE FRUIT UNION.

Meeting of the Trustees—A Branch Office to be Opened.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—The Board of Trustees of the California Fruit Union met to-day

Manager L. W. Buck reported that four carloads of fruit had already been shipped East by the union.

On motion of Mr. DeLong, the President was authorized to furnish the railroad company with a sufficient bond to guarantee the payment of all freight shipped by the union.

On motion of Block, the President and General Manager were empowered to receive bonds from members of the union to secure it in paying freight on fruit shipped.

John Symes, late of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, a former partner of Geo. W. Peck, of Peck's Sun, who came to the coast a few months since in search of a panacea for a severe attack of paralysis which rendered him nearly helpless, after visiting various parts of the State, has moved his family and household effects to Pasadena as his final haven and is now pleasantly domiciled in the Brockway cottage on Los Robbles avenue. He is so much improved in health as to be able to take his daily walk and drive unaided.

The name of the architect whose plans have been selected by the trustees in the Pasadena Methodist Episcopal church, to be erected on the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street, is W. B. Stewart and not "J. M Steinart, of San Diego," as stated in the Pasadena correspondence of the TIMES of May 26. It was a typographical error.

SAN PEDRO.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

SAN PEDRO, May 27.—M. Stuart, while working at Kechoff, Cuzner & Co.'s lumber depot yesterday, had his left leg crushed below the knee. Dr. Brierly was summoned and dressed the wound, which he stated was a complicated compound fracture. Stuart had just arrived from Arizona and was almost penniless; but that the milk of human kindness flows freely in San Pedro, was demonstrated by the thirty-two employés of the company, every one of whom contributed to a purse amounting to about $40—which was handed to their disabled comrade, with the request that he use it in purchasing any dainty, or delicacy, which he may crave during the weary weeks which he will be compelled to remain in the hospital. Mr. Kechoff also promised to pay Stuart's physician and hospital bills, and tenderly assisted in transferring the sufferer from the cars, accompanied the poor fellow to the Sisters' Hospital at Los Angeles.

HARD TACK.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

SAN PEDRO, May 25.—Memorial services are to be held at the Episcopal Church next Sunday, at 10:30 a. m., by the Rev. Mr. Foster. Our boys' brass band has been invited to attend, and a general invitation is extended to Grand Army men and others.

Our public school closed last week with public exercises, which were well attended by the friends and patrons of the school. The exercises consisted of recitations, dialogues, singing, kindergarten exercises, and a military drill by the San Pedro Cadets (members of the school), and addresses by Prof. Blake, the principal; Gen. Beverly, of the trustees; and Rev. Linsley, of Wilmington. The school shows commendable progress under the efficient management of Mr. Blake and Miss Whitney, and we have every reason to be proud of it when we consider that we have only grown to the dignity of two grades within two years. We have already children enough for another grade, and must build on an addition to our handsome new schoolhouse soon.

It was Mr. Le Mars and not Mr. LeMars, who is finishing the fine villa, as you made us say last week. Mr. Le Mars is building the cottage on the hillside.

ANAHEIM.

HOW THE VINEYARDS LOOK—VARIOUS ITEMS.

[Correspondence of the Times.]

ANAHEIM, May 26.—Mr. Gamble has sold his place at North Anaheim to a friend of Mr. Bokisha's from Austria for the sum of $5500.

North Anaheim oranges have not been quite all sent off yet. Several heavy loads have been hauled to the railroad for shipment within a day or two.

C. W. Beard, of Santa Ana, now brings ice into town two or three times a week and his ice wagon, during the late warm days, was a welcome sight. He is bound to do a good business here if he will put up ice.

Old Man Coquillette, as he was called, resembling Uncle Sam in appearance, and the stick he was always whittling, has sold out his property here and gone back to Illinois.

Strong indications of rain yesterday and to-day caused the vine growers some apprehension. A few drops fell this morning, and then it cleared, and they breathe easier. All the vineyards of the Anaheim tract are now looking remarkably well. The rainfall since last February seems not to have affected them adversely, but on account of it the sap is very slow in climbing to the top of the apricot and other trees.

WILMINGTON.

PREPARATIONS FOR MEMORIAL DAY.

WILMINGTON, May 27.—Due preparations are being made for "Memorial Day." Services befitting the occasion, and memorial sermons will we given at the different churches on Sunday, and on Monday public exercises will be held and a procession formed at 2 o'clock p. m. The Compton Post G. A. R. are expected, and addresses will be given by the commander of the post, the local clergy and others. A brass band will also be in attendance.

PASADENA.

The Sierra Madre Amateurs—Big Sales—School Census—Personals.

PASADENA, May 26.—The Sierra Madre Amateur Dramatic Club repeated by request last night at Williams's Hall the comedietta, Dearest Mamma, followed by the pleasing vaudeville, The Loan of a Lover. The very favorable impression which the Amateurs made on their appearance in the same plays last week, was strengthened by their excellent rendition last night, the audience frequently applauding. The Carl Freize orchestra, assisted by Miss Hawkes at the piano, also won their share of applause.

After the dramatic portion of the entertainment was ended, the hall floor was cleared of chairs, and a select company of ladies and gentlemen enjoyed themselves in the giddy waltz, scottische and polka for a couple of hours.

Alfred Hanlon, the actor, lies very low with consumption and is not expected to live. The sympathies of Pasadena are with him and his family.

Two Mexicans, late of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, a former partner of Geo. W. Peck, of Peck's Sun, who came to the coast a few months since in search of a panacea for a severe attack of paralysis which rendered him nearly helpless, after visiting various parts of the State, has moved his family and household effects to Pasadena as his final haven and is now pleasantly domiciled in the Brockway cottage on Los Robbles avenue. He is so much improved in health as to be able to take his daily walk and drive unaided.

The name of the architect whose plans have been selected by the trustees in the Pasadena Methodist Episcopal church, to be erected on the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street, is W. B. Stewart and not "J. M Steinart, of San Diego," as stated in the Pasadena correspondence of the TIMES of May 26. It was a typographical error.

SAN PEDRO.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

SAN PEDRO, May 27.—M. Stuart, while working at Kechoff, Cuzner & Co.'s lumber depot yesterday, had his left leg crushed below the knee. Dr. Brierly was summoned and dressed the wound, which he stated was a complicated compound fracture. Stuart had just arrived from Arizona and was almost penniless; but that the milk of human kindness flows freely in San Pedro, was demonstrated by the thirty-two employés of the company, every one of whom contributed to a purse amounting to about $40—which was handed to their disabled comrade, with the request that he use it in purchasing any dainty, or delicacy, which he may crave during the weary weeks which he will be compelled to remain in the hospital. Mr. Kechoff also promised to pay Stuart's physician and hospital bills, and tenderly assisted in transferring the sufferer from the cars, accompanied the poor fellow to the Sisters' Hospital at Los Angeles.

HARD TACK.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

SAN PEDRO, May 25.—Memorial services are to be held at the Episcopal Church next Sunday, at 10:30 a. m., by the Rev. Mr. Foster. Our boys' brass band has been invited to attend, and a general invitation is extended to Grand Army men and others.

Our public school closed last week with public exercises, which were well attended by the friends and patrons of the school. The exercises consisted of recitations, dialogues, singing, kindergarten exercises, and a military drill by the San Pedro Cadets (members of the school), and addresses by Prof. Blake, the principal; Gen. Beverly, of the trustees; and Rev. Linsley, of Wilmington. The school shows commendable progress under the efficient management of Mr. Blake and Miss Whitney, and we have every reason to be proud of it when we consider that we have only grown to the dignity of two grades within two years. We have already children enough for another grade, and must build on an addition to our handsome new schoolhouse soon.

It was Mr. Le Mars and not Mr. LeMars, who is finishing the fine villa, as you made us say last week. Mr. Le Mars is building the cottage on the hillside.

ANAHEIM.

HOW THE VINEYARDS LOOK—VARIOUS ITEMS.

[Correspondence of the Times.]

ANAHEIM, May 26.—Mr. Gamble has sold his place at North Anaheim to a friend of Mr. Bokisha's from Austria for the sum of $5500.

North Anaheim oranges have not been quite all sent off yet. Several heavy loads have been hauled to the railroad for shipment within a day or two.

C. W. Beard, of Santa Ana, now brings ice into town two or three times a week and his ice wagon, during the late warm days, was a welcome sight. He is bound to do a good business here if he will put up ice.

Old Man Coquillette, as he was called, resembling Uncle Sam in appearance, and the stick he was always whittling, has sold out his property here and gone back to Illinois.

Strong indications of rain yesterday and to-day caused the vine growers some apprehension. A few drops fell this morning, and then it cleared, and they breathe easier. All the vineyards of the Anaheim tract are now looking remarkably well. The rainfall since last February seems not to have affected them adversely, but on account of it the sap is very slow in climbing to the top of the apricot and other trees.

FOREIGN.

Gladstone Appeals to Members of His Party.

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS FOR HOME RULE.

The Premier Proposes Concessions to Strengthen Its Chances—Spurgeon Denounces the Irish Measure.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

LONDON, May 27.—The general Liberal meeting called by Gladstone assembled at the Foreign Office this afternoon. The meeting was well attended by the Premier's supporters, but none of the known Hartington or Chamberlain partisans were present. Gladstone was cheered when he entered. He at once approached the business on hand, and announced that the government had decided to modify the clause in the Home Rule bill excluding Irish representatives from Westminster. A number of Liberals, who did not care to risk compromising themselves by attending the meeting, now openly proclaim their intention to return to their party at once and vote with the government for the second reading. The general opinion this afternoon is that the Home Rule bill will certainly pass the second reading.

GLADSTONE'S SPEECH.

LONDON, May 27.—Two hundred and fifty members of Parliament attended the meeting of Liberals to-day. Mr. Gladstone was very vigorous and animated in his address. He said that nobody would be committed to the support of the Home Rule bill by listening without protest or objection to what he had to say in favor of the measure, because he desired the fullest freedom to prevail in the Liberal party in respect to it. Lord Salisbury's recent speech, in which he said that the business of England and Ireland was to govern, had decided the conditions of the controversy, because he was the official spokesman of the opposition, the Irish policy of the government's opponents being, therefore, coercion. The importance of settling the Irish question now was intensified. It had been proposed to settle the matter by the adoption of an abstract resolution affirming the principle of home rule for Ireland, but Mr. Gladstone thought the course proposed by the government would answer better. An endeavor had been made to emasculate the principle of autonomy for Ireland and convert the bill into a delusion and snare. Mr. Gladstone warmly eulogized Lord Hartington, who, he said, possessed integrity and manliness. The Premier, however, at no point during his speech made any allusion to Mr. Chamberlain. Concerning the matter of representation, Mr. Gladstone said the Government was willing to submit to Parliament a plan entitling Irish representatives to be included in the imperial Parliament, whenever proposals of taxation affecting Ireland were up for consideration. Moreover, if the House of Commons was ready to undertake the responsibility of entitling the Irish to be heard in the Imperial Parliament on imperial or reserved questions, the changes in Home Rule bill, to accomplish these results, would entail a reconstruction of the measure.

The meeting adjourned with three cheers for Mr. Gladstone. Mr. Chamberlain and his followers will hold another meeting to-morrow to decide upon their attitude with reference to the proposed modifications of the Home Rule bill.

THE ARMS ACT.

In the House of Commons to-day two amendments were adopted providing that the Arms Act shall expire in December, 1887, and annulling the power of magistrates to grant certificates. An amendment to reduce the penalties for the unlawful carrying of arms was rejected. The bill then passed the committee stage.

SPURGEON'S PROTEST AGAINST HOME RULE.

The Rev. Mr. Spurgeon publishes an attack on Gladstone's Home Rule bill. The preacher asks: "What has Ulster done to be cast off?" and adds: "The whole scheme is as full of dangers and absurdities as if conceived by a madman. Yet I am sure that Gladstone believes he is only doing justice, and acting for the good of all. I consider that he is making one of those mistakes only made by great and well-meaning men."

THE QUEEN DOES AS SHE PLEASES.

The Queen will return to Windsor on the third week in June. Gladstone's respectful suggestion to her to remain at Windsor until after the division on the Home Rule bill had no effect, and her refusal to remain has caused a bad impression throughout the country.

Special Announcement.

IMPORTANT ENTERPRISES AND IMPROVEMENTS IN CONTEMPLATION BY THE TIMES MIRROR COMPANY.

The TIMES has never been in the habit, as its readers will bear witness, of "blowing" much about itself, its achievements or its enterprise. We have held perhaps too rigidly to the rule of the minimum of promise and the maximum of performance. Generally we have been content to let results speak for themselves, knowing that an intelligent constituency of readers, such as ours, would quickly detect for themselves any good thing on the part of the paper. We have aimed to keep abreast of the city, the south country, and the times; but now we find that the splendid progress of this imperial section of the Great Republic is making demands upon our journals—the DAILY TIMES and the WEEKLY MIRROR—which the publishers must exert themselves to meet.

Within four years—which short period spans almost the entire lifetime of our daily paper—the city of Los Angeles has increased in population from fifteen to forty thousand, and this once "cow" county to more than double that number. Homes have multiplied and wealth increased with unprecedented rapidity.

The whole of Southern California has gone steadily and rapidly forward towards its nob's destiny. The progress made has been remarkable, and the fact is famous the country over.

The stretch of California which we boldly claim to be the fairest, most productive and most promising of any region on the face of the globe for civilized homes, has developed in marvelous measure, in every particular, and in every direction. Agriculture has expanded; Horticulture has become a prodigy of production; Commerce has doubled, trebled and quadrupled; Manufactures, which were substantially unknown a few years ago, are growing up. The word all along the line is "FORWARD!"

To meet the demands which this happy state of things makes upon its printing and publishing facilities, the Times Mirror Company has determined upon certain important enterprises and improvements, which will be inaugurated at as early a date as practicable.

Among these are:

1. A complete new dress of type for the DAILY TIMES and the WEEKLY MIRROR.

2. A considerable addition to our job-printing facilities, making that department even better equipped than ever for the prompt and satisfactory execution of commercial, legal and general printing.

3. New presses and other machinery, including a fast double-cylinder Hoe newspaper press, to print our large and steadily-increasing editions; a folding machine, a new and larger engine, a new paging and numbering machine, etc.

4. A new and commodious office building, suited to these various expansions and additions, and provided with modern equipments, is another enterprise in contemplation, and which the demands of our business will require in the not distant future.

These several important improvements, when made, will convert the TIMES-MIRROR establishment into one of the most complete printing-offices and publishing-houses in the Western country, and enable us the better to work out that sure and high destiny which the publishers are convinced is in store for their journals.

Shiloh.

We have in hand a lengthy and interesting war paper, written by Gen. Edward Bouton, entitled "Buell and Shiloh," which will appear in next Sunday morning's issue of the TIMES. Bouton's battery played a conspicuous part in in the battle of Shiloh, so much so that Gen. Halleck is quoted as saying that in his opinion a thousand men saved the day at Shiloh, "most conspicuous among whom were Bouton's battery of Chicago."

General Buell's article, entitled "Shiloh Reviewed," as published in the March number of the Century Magazine, has been the subject of considerable criticism. Gen. Bouton's article was written at the repeated request of various ex-officers and soldiers now residing here, who took part in the battle of Shiloh. It contradicts many of the statements of Gen. Buell, and agrees to show the impossibility of their correctness. He cites by states facts and events, shows a thorough knowledge of matters described, and makes clear many points hitherto clouded with uncertainty.

Gen. Bouton made a brilliant record in the western army. The Chicago Tribune classed the achievements of Bouton's battery at Shiloh and of Bouton's brigade at Guntown as among the most gallant events of the war. In recommending his promotion, Gen. Grant gave him an exceedingly strong indorsement, and Gen. Sherman called him "the best artillery officer in the army." That rough and ready fighter, A. J. Smith, when his war-worn veterans were a second time hurled back from the assault on Spanish Fort at Mobile, exclaimed to Col. Kendrick, who had served under Bouton, "I wish to God Bouton was here! He would go in there like a rat in a new cheese!"

Another incident in Bouton's notable military career is related:

At Harrisonburgh, Miss., between 10 and 12 o'clock on the night of July 14, 1864, with some 2200 men, Bouton made a vigorous and effective bayonet charge, which is said to have been the only bayonet charge made in the night during the war.

Gen. J. W. Robbins wrote in the Chicago Inter-Ocean of Bouton as follows:

General Bouton entered the army as a captain of Bouton's Chicago battery, and made a fine military record; it being said of him that he never lost a gun, though participating in over forty engagements during the war; while for the ability and integrity with which he discharged the duty of having military permits for removal of cotton and merchandise along the Mississippi river, he has received many compliments from President Lincoln, Secretary Stanton and General Grant, as well as the press of Chicago.

General Bouton's forthcoming article will prove interesting reading to all soldiers and students of the war, and to the public in general.

"CHATA AND CHANITA," a novel of Mexican life, by Mrs. Louise Palmer Heaven, begins in the June number of the Overland Monthly. Mrs. Heaven has been a contributor to both the first series of the Overland and to the present magazine. Her contributions have been chiefly stories and sketches of Mexico, a country with which she is familiar from long residence. She does not describe American life in Mexico, but the life of the Mexicans themselves, entering into their point of view. As a story of the inner life of a rich hacienda, and the real character of Mexican señoras and señoritas it is claimed that "Chata and Chanita" should be more valuable than "Ramona," on account of the much more intimate acquaintance of the writer with the subject.

THE Alta California says that Los Angeles claims possession of six parks, but they are generally lacking in improvement. That is the truth. Our parks are a reproach to us, and it is to be hoped that we shall soon see something accomplished in the way of their regeneration.

AN IMPORTANT OPINION.

A Connecticut Judge Declares Boycotting to be Illegal.

Special Dispatch to the Boston Herald.]

NEW HAVEN, Ct., May 2, 1886.—Before a large and interested gathering of people, Judge Pickett ascended the bench of the city court at 10 o'clock this morning and overruled the demurrer of he defense in the case of the State vs. Benjamin F. Glidden, walking delegate of the Knights of Labor, who is charged with intimidating Mendel & Freedman from advertising in the Journal and Courier. Owing to the importance of the case, Judge Pickett prepared his finding in writing, which he read. As will be seen, he believes boycotting to be criminal. The decision was as follows:

"The court finds, in accordance with a claim of the defense, that the use of threats or other means of intimidation, to be fairly within the scope of the statute, must be threats to do or the actual doing of some illegal act to intimidate, and thereby prevent a person from exercising his option as to the doing or not doing of lawful and proper acts.

"The complainant in the first count charges the accused with unlawfully threatening Adolph Mendel and Isadore Freedman, copartners in mercantile business, with intent to compel them, the said Mendel & Freedman, against their will, to abstain from their legal right to advertise their business in a newspaper known as the Journal and Courier, the threat being to the effect that, if the said Mendel & Freedman did so advertise, he, the accused, and other persons, would 'boycott' them, the said Mendel & Freedman.

"The term 'boycott' is comparatively new, better understood in this country by operation than by description, and, so far as is known to the court, is described and defined in permanent literature only in the Encyclopedia-Dictionary, an English philological authority, the principal definition being as follows, to wit: 'To gain a person outside of the pale of society, high and low, amid which he lives, and on which depends; socially to outlaw him, to have no dealings of any kind with him.

"In this country it is within common knowledge that the term is a compendious name used to describe a series of acts not in the line of lawful competition, commenced and continued by all persons who can be persuaded to join in them to hinder and prevent the proper pursuit of a lawful occupation or business, with intent to injure the corporation, firm or individual against whom the 'boycott' is directed.

"The term 'to boycott,' in the opinion of the court, as plainly implies that it is an act or series of acts to be carried on by a combination or confederacy of persons, as the term 'to mob' implies the doing of an act or series of acts by such combination or confederacy. The court is further of the opinion that all confederacies whatsoever to prejudice a third party are highly criminal under the common law as administered in this State. The Court, therefore finds that the threat to 'boycott,' as qualified in the complaint, is a threat to do an illegal act, well calculated to intimidate, and that the same is sufficiently stated and set forth in the first count of the complaint. The Court further finds that the acts done, set forth in the second count, were illegal acts calculated to intimidate, and that the same are sufficiently stated and set forth. The demurrer is therefore overruled, the accused having the right to plead over to the complaint."

Judge Pickett assigned a trial for Saturday.

STATE AND COAST.

Harvest hands are paid $1.50 per day in Merced county.

A floral fair, for the benefit of the Pacific Methodist College, will be given in Santa Rosa shortly.

The Bridge Company, which has the contract for building a wagon road from Martinez to Pinole, get $668 a mile for it.

A Lassen county hunter has killed 2944 rabbits, and presented a bill to the county for $88 32, the bounty being three cents each.

In a little over a year thirty-nine new postoffices have been established in Oregon.

Owing to a lack of patronage, the steam laundry at Santa Rosa has suspended operations.

The Sierra Lumber Company has just completed what is virtually a new railroad from Crampton to the Yellow Jacket mill, a distance of ten miles.

At Vallejo one day last week, a marine wishing to reach the Navy Yard boldly attempted to swim the straits. He would probably have lost his life had not a man in a boat rescued him.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, has declared for a constitutional amendment which would disqualify Senators and Representatives from being candidates for President.

A Democratic paper in New Hampshire asserts that the "Blaine boomers" covertly planned the Jefferson Davis trip and ovation. The worst of it is, it seems to believe its stupid story.

Representative Morrison cannot see why the Republicans desire to get control of the next House when his own party is making so much capital for their opponents in 1888.

Representative Willis of the Louisville, Ky., District says that one-fourth of the Democrats in his district have been applicants for office of some sort. This is worse than those most familiar with the official rapacity of Democrats had believed.

George C. Gorham, quite generally, if not so favorably, known to Republicans, having declared that Mr. Blaine has been a traitor to the Republican party since the era of reconstruction, the New York Sun would like to know if the 4,800,000 Republicans who voted for him are also traitors.

There is a special provision in the clause of the Appropriation bill which provides for the appointment of 150 special pension examiners, under which these examiners are to be appointed "on the recommendation of the Commissioner of Pensions" instead of under the civil service rules. The Democratic hunger for office shows itself in many ways.

All in a Name.

Benton's Hair Grower.

All who are bald, all who are becoming bald, all who do not want to be bald, all who are troubled with dandruff, or itching of the scalp; should use Benton's Hair Grower. Eighty per cent. of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and although the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have produced a good growth of hair on those who have been bald and glazed for years. We have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow hair in eighty cases out of a hundred, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a Hair food and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE STRENGTH.

When the skin is very tough and hard, and the follicle is apparently effectually closed, the single strength will sometimes fail to reach the papilla; in such cases the double or triple strength should be used in connection with the single, using them alternately.

Real Estate.

THE GREATEST

Real Estate Sale of the Season!

Subdivision of the celebrated Co-operative Nursery Tract. Grand sale of 482 beautiful residence lots, each 50 feet front, including 15 extra large size corner prize lots, on South Main street, near Jefferson, at $250 each, on easy instalments, without interest. With these lots are included ten beautiful and expensive cottages, four mast electric lights, ample and heavy plank sidewalks in front of every lot, 14-year-old seedling orange trees; also bearing grapevines—all of which improvements are free to subscribers. Books for subscription will be open on and after Thursday, April 29, at J. M. BATCHELOR & CO.'S, Real Estate, Auctioneers, 236 North Main street, Baker Block.

The owner of this property respectfully refers to His Honor Mayor Spence, President of First Nation l Bank; President John E. Plater, of Los Angeles County Bank; President Geo. H. Bonebrake, of Los Angeles National Bank.

A very unusual opportunity to obtain a lovely home in the most beautiful southern suburb of Los Angeles.

Four hundred and eighty-two lots for sale on terms within the reach of any one wishing a home of their own at less rates than house rent can be obtained.

Over one-half of these lots contain 14 year-old seedling orange trees—not common oranges, remember. A few lots of this section afford a good family living. One-third of these lots are covered with the three best varieties of bearing grape vines. All but a small portion of the remainder is in 11-year-old full bearing seedling orange trees.

This estate, sightly and well situated, noted for the care it has always had, with high, level ground, way above any possible overflow, is the gem of the city.

The scenery in every direction is of great extent and beauty. Situated 2½ miles south of the Postoffice, on the chief thoroughfare of Los Angeles, directly in a line with the heavy or more valuable business growth of the city. No other street contains such valuable property. This fact is most important and should be remembered by those looking for future rise of values. But ten minutes' drive north of this site, on the same street, lots of same size sell for $2000 each.

TERMS—Cash; or, $50 cash, $45 in 1 month, $15 in 2 months, $10 in 3 months and every month thereafter until $250 is paid.

Subscriptions will be received at above rates direct by the owner, whose responsibility is of the highest class.

At meeting of all subscribers will be held on or about July 31, 1886, for the purpose of selecting the lots subscribed for. At this meeting a committee of three will be appointed by the subscribers. The name of every subscriber will then be read aloud from written slips of paper, which will then be placed in a suitable box from which, when all the names are placed therein, will be drawn by the committee, one name at one time. The name, when read aloud, permits its owner to select the best lot from the entire number unchosen.

A deed will then be made out, and the subscriber can take immediate possession. The deed to remain in the owner's hands until the full $250, the price of the lot, shall be paid. To give every subscriber a fair chance, one name is entitled to select not more than one lot containing a dwelling house, nor is one name entitled to select more than one-half the lots that name subscribes for either on New Main or San Pedro streets, except in case of two lots only in one name. These dwellings are to be beautiful in design, ten in number, and strictly first class in every respect; complete in all appointments, and ready for occupancy without any additional expense. Their cost of construction is a comparatively large figure. Plans and designs may be seen at our office, J. M. BATCHELOR & CO., Real Estate, Auctioneers, 236 N. Main street, where the conditions are now received. Maps to be had and every information on application.

The Main street horse-car line has already arranged to go to the corner of Main and Jefferson streets, within 10 minutes' walk of the tract, and will be extended to pass the tract on demand of a sufficient number of new residents.

A second horse-car line is projected to pass within a block of the southeast side of the tract, which extends nearly one mile on San Pedro street. Also the main line of Col. Howland's Electric Railroad will run either past the entire tract on San Pedro street or within a parallel block, on its way out of the city. The Santa Monica Railroad has now a flag station within five minutes' walk of the tract, so there will be no lack of conveyance to and from the center of the city. The water on the grounds is of the best quality. It can be tested at the laborers' house on San Pedro side of the estate. Water will be piped from the city mains as soon as there is a sufficient demand.

The property lies close to the University of Southern California, affording a first-class education for the young, within easy walking distance.

Teams leave Baker Block daily, including Sundays, at 9:30 a. m., 12:30 p. m. and 3 p. m. Fare 5 cents.

CALIFORNIA POSITIVE & NEGATIVE Electric Family Medicines.

The most Powerful preparation on the

No minerals or poisons used in our preparations—all their ingredients are gathered from the beautiful hills of southern California. Electricity is life; without it man becomes rare and soon.

California Positive and Negative Electric Golden Drops.

The turn of life is considered a very critical period. Thousands of ladies die annually at this time of life that might be saved by using our golden Drops. On each one of the sealed instructions to the newly married ladies. This alone is worth many times the price of the medicine. Price $1 50 per bottle.

California Positive and Negative Electric Rheuma ic Cure.

Rheumatism does not come upon the system very rapidly, but when once thoroughly seated it is the most stubborn and agonizing of all ailments of the human species. The California Positive and Negative Rheuma ic Cure is a positive, self-guard acting remedy. In short time it destroys all the poisonous matter in the system, and cures the worst form of rheumatism. It will break up the most excruciating suffering known to humanity. This preparation is fatal to neuralgia. Use the Electric Wash for application to affected parts and take the other as directed. Price $1 50 for the two bottles, which come together.

California Positive and Negative Electric Cough and Consumption Cure.

This preparation is not equaled by any for consumptio , colds, coughs, etc. It immediately gives relief in wh oping cough. Relieves asthma in its cure. The combination of Californian herbs, as it is handled, leaves no poisonous substance in the system and eradicates every germ of this dreaded disease. Price $1 per bottle.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES,
Los Angeles, Thursday, May 27.

Three carloads of Oranges and Lemons were shipped to-day, two going east and one north.

Fruits from the North have been arriving in large quantities during the week and prices for several varieties are somewhat lower. Cherries are plentiful. About 400 boxes were received to-day. The fruit is in fine condition, and sells at $1.25@1.35 per box for Gooseberries are in fair supply and bring from 75c to $1 per box. Apricots are quite plenty and in moderate demand at $2 25. Currants are in small supply and sell for $1 per box. Fruits are being re-shipped from here to eastern points in considerable quantities, but the weather is so warm that large quantities arrive at their destinations in bad order.

The Vegetable market is only moderately well supplied with most varieties at present. Tomatoes are scarce, and bring $1. The new crop from the adjoining country will not be here for about a fortnight yet. White Onions are in fair supply, but are sold yet dry enough for shipping. They are quoted at $2 50. Cabbage is scarce at $1 50. Few shipments of Cabbage are now made, the weather being too warm. Potatoes are in good demand at 90c@$1. There are no northern or old Potatoes on hand now.

Eggs are in better supply, and are quoted a little lower to-day.

The poultry market is fairly active, fancy broilers are more plentiful and lower.

Shipping News.

Nine schooners are at present discharging lumber at the various wharves at San Pedro. Their cargoes aggregate 3,000,000 feet.

Four ships from foreign ports are at present at San Pedro discharging coal.

The British ship Euston Hall, Captain Lindsay, with 2700 tons of coal arrived at San Pedro Tuesday from Sydney. Euston Hall was 68 days on her voyage which is the best time that has been made in the last year.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Government bonds quiet but steady.

London, it is thought did the last of its selling of shares this morning, and there is considerable evidence that it was a buying day afternoon, especially in St. Paul, Union Pacific and Louisville and Nashville were the off-ring stocks in the early hour, and these were the best at high prices, but not before noon the stocks offered were taken, and buying began again. The market responded quickly and closed at or near the highest figures of the day.

The Normal School May Class Graduates.

TEACHERS-TO-BE AND PROUD FRIENDS

A Very Creditable Exhibition, Whose Attractions Crowded the Grand Opera House—The Essays.

The commencement exercises of the California Branch State Normal School took place yesterday afternoon in the Grand Opera House. Every seat was filled, and when the curtain went up and disclosed the charming scene upon the stage—the rows of bright, earnest, young faces rising tier on tier—the great audience rustled with friendly interest. The May graduating class, upon which attention centered, numbered 21. Of these, six were young men, the rest young women. Their names and the titles of their commencement orations and essays follow:

Etta M. Bailey, "What we Are, we Teach;" Marian E. Blake, "Nothing but Words;" Emma V. Cahill, "The Oyster and the Nautilus;" Peter C. Campbell, "Political Integrity of Gladstone;" Joseph D. Connor, "Effect of Inventions on Labor;" Ada Dryden, "Woman's Work;" Helen H. Field, "Fences;" William A. Foster, "Every Man a Debtor to his Profession;" Sophie H. Gilbert, "Manners;" Clotilde A. Grunsky, "The Arithmetic of Life;" Frances V. Harrow, "The Stone and its Setting;" May J. Henline, "Sowing and Reaping;" William R. Holladay, "Self-Reliance;" Edward R. Kellum, "Elements of Success;" Lucy I. McElmoil "Centers;" William H. McElmoil, "Popularity and Fame;" Christiana J. Miller, "The Last Decade;" Jessie F. Poore, "Education of the Senses;" M. Lillian Pinkham, "Great Cities;" Viola Shrode, "Without Sound of Hammer;" Gertrude Taft, "A Maker of History."

The stage was lined with handsome floral offerings; and every effort by the pupils was liberally applauded. After an overture from Beethoven, admirably rendered by the Heinz Quartette, the invocation was delivered by Rev. D. W. Hanna.

The first oration was by

of whom it is said that he has not missed a single roll-call during his three years in the Normal—and was entitled "Popularity and Fame." It was a well and thoughtfully written theme, delivered with an earnestness which made an impression. "The passions of man act upon the soul as water on quicklime, exciting it to vigorous activity. Ambition pushes man forward to secure reputation and fame, while the love of ease leads him to continuously for principle's sake. Loving favor is indeed better than gold. Motives of self interest will make popularity desirable. Popularity implies the possession of a power which makes possible success in many great enterprises. In many occupations, popular favor, as soon as secured, insures success. There is no such thing as absolute independence of the individual; and the greater our ambitions, the more we need popularity. Yet, it is not well to labor for it—for we would soon lose our self-reliance and self-respect. Popularity which does not rest upon solid merit is very transitory. Popularity is a sort of a blaze that surrounds a man, moving all there is in him, adding nothing, but oft consuming him. Many of our desires are gratified during life—as that for popularity—but not that for fame. Fame is lasting renown, based on true merit, and independent of the fluctuating influences of the people, popularity a fickle, fleeting quality not to be relied upon. The castle of fame stands beyond the grave; and the lights shining from it are the memories of the noble dead. Ambitious men are liable to disappointment; but the respectful silence with which true merit is often received is the highest applause. The man of noble thoughts and acts commands the respect of all. A strong desire for fame is an incentive to make our words as effective as to earn the world's gratitude."

VIOLA SHRODE

gave, in a very pleasing manner, an earnest essay, of poetic imagery, entitled "Without Sound of Hammer." Its girt followed: "Without sound of hammer, axe or saw, the great temple of Solomon was built. * * * The great swarms of workmen found a stone so peculiarly shaped that it seemed to fit nowhere in the great edifice; but as the work progressed that stone which the builders rejected became the head of the corner. The temple was built up with stone, and then covered with cedar and inlaid with pure gold. And all this was without sound of hammer, axe or saw. So with our lives. Often the rough edge of some trial seems out of place; but by and by we find it to be the very cornerstone of our lives. In childhood we build up the temple of stone; then we lay on the cedar of experience, and then the pure gold of wisdom. Every person has a silent side, which is not visible to the careless world. A pure and upright life has more influence upon the wicked than all the preaching without corresponding practice. Shakspeare had many characters who seem to say very little; but those few words are condensed all their attributes. The great dramatist knew how to bring out the silent side. Nature is full of silent things yet influential ones. The fable of the traveler, the blustering wind and the sunlight and * * * The more one tries to drive us, the more we draw around us the cloak of independence; but a loving, gentle influence leads us easily. The silent influence tells. The silent snow protects the tender plants from the cruel frost; silent sleep is Nature's sweet restorer; and at last silent Death will put his grim mark upon us so softly that we shall not know his coming."

MISS EMMA V. CAHILL

the class historian, whose record of attendance is as notable as her brother's, gave a bright essay which was much enjoyed by her fellow pupils and the audience at large. She started out by telling of a centenarian whose life had been so uneventful that it seemed impossible to collect material for his funeral sermon. The minister, however, preached an admirable discourse upon the wonderful inventions and achievements of the hundred years which had passed over the old man's head, till he seemed to shine with a reflected glory. "So it has been with our class. We have had no history, nor done anything wonderful. Our school life has been too pleasant to be historical. But many important changes have taken place in the Normal School since our entrance. We have seen the school increase from five classes of the library from an empty room to a well-stocked one, containing all the principal periodicals and about 1200 volumes. The museum—not even started when we entered—is now the pride of the school. Changes have taken place in our ranks since we first met in the early part of August, 1883, when 36 were admitted to 'Junior B.' * * * Of all that goodly array of pupils only six remain. Eight have dropped from our class into lower classes; five have dropped into the ranks of graduates; and many others, four or five are teaching, and others obliged to leave school on account of ill-health. The bright little historian went on to tell wherein each member of the class was hit off in some youthful fashion, frequently very cleverly characterized by saying: "Four grains of happiness I can wish my class mates is that their life here after may be as pleasant, and their path as clear, as in the days we spent together in the Normal School."

The history was followed by a chorus by the school, "Spring's Delights are Now Returning." The difficult piece was very acceptably rendered, and the encore of its presentation was a big compliment to Prof. R. L. Kent, teacher of music at the Normal. He has had the class in charge for three months, and the efficiency to which it has been brought is very creditable.

MAY J. HENLINE

Followed in a spirited essay, "Sowing and Reaping." She said in brief "Happiness consists in activity. Our nature is the running stream, not the stagnant pool. Mother Nature is not passive, and all her children have inherited the trait. We all work—some with profit, some unprofitably. And all these doers, these sowers, must some day be gatherers. This retaliatory system is the inevitable law of nature, and is recognized by man in his penal codes. He who takes his neighbor's life or property is hunted down and deprived of his own life or liberty. So violation of the laws of health is inevitably followed by retaliation. The outcomes of our moral characteristics are everywhere shown forth, some gaudily
